repair

A cost-effective and sustainable alternative to buying a new spare part is repairing it. We repair your industrial electronics across all manufacturers - with or without a circuit diagram. We offer you a rental service for the duration of the repair.

General overhaul

If a machine breaks down due to a defect, high costs can quickly arise. With a proactive product overhaul, possible damage can be identified early and proactively and system downtimes can be averted.

Inspection and cleaning

The age-related wear of components is underestimated in many companies. Various environmental influences such as humidity, dust and dirt can lead to defects and machine failures. We test and clean your assemblies to avoid malfunctions and failures.
